

free online support, wherever and whenever you need it

As a young person, there are lots of things to think about like school, study, work, relationships, physical and mental health. Whatever it is you're facing, headspace is here to help.

Your journey, your choice

There are many ways you can get the support you need just from visiting the headspace website and creating an account.

Develop your self-help skills

There are interactive exercises that allow you to manage your own mental health. These bite-sized activities help you reflect on your own needs, build your everyday skills and set goals to improve your mental health.

Discover tips such as improving your sleep, understanding emotions, getting active or problem-solve, just by doing one of these exercises.

Chat privately with professionals

You can chat privately with our professional counsellors over the phone or webchat, seven days a week between 9am – 1am (AEST). It's a safe space if you want some advice, unsure of what help you need or maybe just want to talk things through.

Resources and tips

Want to do your own research? There are heaps of resources available which can be a great starting place to gather information that's relevant to you.

Join the community

Our safe and supportive online community provides a great way to connect with others, and share resources that are helpful to you.

Our regular group chats bring young people together and explore topics that are important to the community. Our peer-led chats are held every week, where you can share tips and experiences with others. There are also chats run by our professional clinicians who explore topics and provide resources, strategies and advice to help build your skills.
